THE GOVERNMENT AND CHINESE OBSTRUCTIONISTS.

Since Sir William Robinson assumed the responsibilities of Governor of this colony in 1891, it has frequently been the unpleasant duty of the Hongkong Telegraph to adversely criticise-often to forcibly condemn-many of the measures initiated by his Excellency, but at the same time we have never been niggard in praise when our judgment and lengthened experience of the peculiar local conditions of Hongkong affairs justified us in supporting his policy. And never, perhaps, have the sentiments of the Government and the Telegraph been more in accord than in the determined, but still fair and square stand which his Excellency has taken in regard to the petulant, ignorant and nonsensical revolt of a section of the Chinese community against the absolutely necessary sanitary precautions taken for stamping out the plague which has been raging in the more densely populated localities of the colony for some weeks past.

The Telegraph has never yet failed to champion the cause of the Chipese or any other of the "popularly" despised sections of the community so long as they had Right on their side and Justice was A REGULAR Convocation of St. Andrew's denied them. And in connection with the present juncture it is no exaggeration, nor breach of confidence to make. known here, that we have sen solicited by some of the most influent, and best- THE Hyogo News reports that owing to a of a matron and nurse, which has rendered known sections of the business community of the Island, to protest against the houseto-house visits of the Sanitary r horities, claiming that the sacred privacy of native unnecessary force was being used by the subordinate officials and much needless misery and discomfort were being inflicted on them. The ur ent necessity for enforcing these sanitary measures, against which they so bitterly complained, was explained, but Chinese prejudice, begotten of will o' the wisp wisdom and added to by centuries of ever-growing ignorance, is not easily overcome. Reason would not he listened to nor well-meant advice$2.00 if necessary, the introduction of Western notions which to them were unpalatable! Rumours of the fiendish doings of foreign doctors were put in circulation and some of the leading discontents gave a practical illustration of the fomenting indignation by attacking, and maltreating one of the most enlightened Chinese gentlemen in the community, because he had been found guilty of sympathising with and assisting in the promulgation of alleged nefarious foreign ideas for the suppression of an epidemic which was daily thinning the population of Tai-ping-shan and other classic regions of the Island of Fragrant Streams! Hence it is that the Telegraph takes particular pleasure in commending and supporting the spirited line of action decided on and lucidly expressed by Sir William Robinson to a deputation of Chinese citizens that waited on him yesterday. The theory that consideration and forbearance are qualities which when exercised by the strong towards the weak reflect naught but honor and credit on the power exercising them, does not often hold good in the Orient. Here they are construed into thinly veiled admissions of weakness. Prompt and energetic action saves no end of trouble

in the long run, and upon the firm attitude which he has determined to assume, both the Governor and the community generally are to be congratulated.

The germs of this vile disease were either brought into the colony by Chinese from Canton or were incubated in the foul dens existing in the Chinese quarter, and because necessary sanitary laws are introduced, the value of which their ignorance and prejudice will not allow them to examine or consider for one moment, a number of Chinese who have hitherto enjoyed all the rights of citizenship on British soil, rise up and threaten violence Liberty of speech and action are the glorious privileges of all who seek shelter under the British flag, but when liberty runs riot and becomes licence, that privilege ceases and lawful authority must be asserted at any cost. Luckily the local authorities have ample material at their command to enforce the law, and without the shadow of a doubt this will be done even at the point of the bayonet should circumstances render it necessary. We do not for one moment imagine that the Chinese community will be so foolish as to court such drastic action, but it is well essential to the welfare of the colony, prejudice, but of human lives, when milder measures fail. Hundreds. not thousands. of the more wealthy classes are clearing out dally, and it is fondly hoped in Chinese quarters that this exodus will open the eyes of the Government to the risk it is running in depopulating the Island and cause it to rescind its objectionable sanitary enactment! Pure Chinese reasoning this with a outlet for their stupid resentment will be in organising strikes among the working classes with a view to crippling trade; indeed, a hint in this direction may be gathered from the conduct of the water the condition of the drains on the lower levels. | population to-day. The owners of cargoboats and other craft have discontinued work. much to the inconvenience Further information can be obtained by of shipping, but ignorance and superstition may be responsible for this rather than preconcerted plans. Still it behaves the Government to remain firm and its executive officers to be particularly on the que vive, so that necessary precautions may be taken at any moment to prevent the CAUTION seems to be carried to excess in Macao, judging by the manner in which an "infected coolie sprang, ashore from the Heungshan this morning and pranced along the Praya, making a bee-line for a junk bound for the Holy City He was, it appears, prevented from landing at Macao yesterday because he was a little feverish, and was therefore confined on board the Heungshan, where he didn't develop any symptoms of the plague, but rather of madness -- mad' because the Macao medical authorities wouldn't sllow him to go on his way rejoicing.

THUS the N. C. Daily News :- The Kolso Hul trouble in Hunan has been satisfactorily quashed, and the soldlers who were sent forward are returning again. The outbreak occurred in the district of Packinglu—the home of Liu, the Viceroy of Nanking-at a small place called Wukang, and is, said to have been due to the over zealous action of a military official in apprehending so many members of this Society, that heads have fallen. The plain truth of the matter probably is that the people have been not only at the cost of Chinese pride and driven into retaliation by unbearable official oppression, and have been crushed in the remorstless fashion which usually prevails when the mandarins are the parties attacked. To call the victims Kulao Hui, of course, justifies the slaughter of any number of them.

THE triengial report of the Wuhu Genera Hospital for 1801-3, the N. C. Daily News says is something more than a history of the bene ficent work carried on by that institution, for th Rev. Geo. A. Stuart, the physician in charge and pastor, has availed himself of the occasion to express freely his views on more than one asped of medical missionary work. He speaks care estly upon what he regards as the pauperising method of free dispensing, which the Wahi hospital, following the lead of other missionar hospitals in China, has pursued. " Free dispens ing is as unjustifiable in China as in America of England," says the report, and the compile asserts that patients had not returned for further treatment because they were not allowed to pe for the first consultation, whilst the wealthy and official classes, and indeed the ordinary well-to-de merchants, held aloof for the same reason, it is now becoming pretty generally recognised Dennys, was for the defendant. that to disarm the suspicions of the upper classes The following sat as a special fury :-- H. IT is worthy of note that at the present time the major portion of the crowds of passengers to Canton and Macao are women and children, many of the former being the wives of wealthy Chinese. Can it be that house-to-house visitations constitute the cause of this remarkable exodus, or are we on the verge of having a tug-of-wer between Chinese and Europeans, pulled off here in a somewhat novel manner, and that therefore the women and children are being packed off to places of security and seclusion with the utmost spred possible? IT is reported from the North that some coal miners, while exploring in the district of Hsingkuochou, Anhui, at the end of last month, having come across an old shaft in which there happened to be a number of deed bodies, upper world by the collapse of the mine not less than 400 years ago, were so scared that they at once gave up further exploration, filling in the hole which revealed the gruesome sight, Although the coal deposits were reported to be especially rich, the superstition of the miners was too much, and a good mine has thus been lost to the proprietors. The dead bodies are said to have been free from decay and the features were quite natural, but no sooner-had the outside air entered the hole than the bodies and clothing suddenly crumbled away, leaving nothing but skeletons.

In order to avoid a repetition of the disasters to the boating population occasioned by the recent the Han and Slang rivers, which happened a short time ago, the local authorities at Hanyang and Hankow are stated to have instructed the telegraph office in the city of Slangyang, Hupch, to put marking poles along the banks of the Slang river to indicate any sudden rise of its waters. If any such rise occur, the telegraph people, who have men on the watch night and day, are to telegraph at once down to the yamen of the local military Tu-sa or First Captain at Hankow, apprising the authorities of the fact. Immediately upon receipt of the telegram, soldiers with flags and gongs are to line the banks of the river and warn the people in the junks and boats assembled on either side at Hanyang and Hankow to get out of danger at once, be it day or night,

The terms were stated in a letter signed by Choi Chu The arrest was accordingly effected, and $35 of the $500 reward was paid over. Cheung, however, gave security, and subsequently obtained an order to have it returned to him, so that the arrest was ineffectual. Then Chol Chu refused to pay the rest of the $500 promised, hence this suit. Mr. Leach stated that the defendant alleged that the agreement was obtained by false pretences. The plaintiff and two other men came to the defendant and said that his solicitor, Mr. Wilkinson, advised him to offer this reward otherwise the man would escape. The three men had a letter, apparently the one mentioned by Mr. Dennys, and Choi Chu signed it, believing the story of the lawyer's advice. THE PLAGUE IN HONGRONG.

In our yesterday's issue we published an expose of the baseless nature of the rumours current among the Chinese bearing upon the alleged maltreatment of patients in the floating and Lap-sap-wan branch hospitals. This was done with a view to giving the lie direct to certain mischievous Chinese agitators who have unquestionably preyed upon the credulity and ignorance of the lower orders of their country. men for reasons which, there is good ground for believing, are the reverse of creditable. It was at these mischlevous native agitators we were aiming, for it was the Chinese, who up to that time were solely to blame for the necessary scare created among their countrymen. Now, however, we have to deal with a foreign journal, the Daily Press to wit, which this morning gives publicity to a baseless sumour that has been current among the natives for several days past but which the Editor of that unreliable paper admits "reached him at too late an hour for any inquiries to be made respecting the truth o otherwise of the allegation." The allegation is published in the Daily Press, thus :-ALLEGED SINGULAR AND FATAL MISTAKE

The Kennedy-town and floating hospitals are scrupulously clean, well, ventilated, the medical attendance constant and thoroughly efficient, and the staff of nurses and wardmasters all that could possibly be desired. Indeed, so far from the patients not being properly cared for, the very reverse is the case, wardmaster Cummins of the Lunatic Asylum and several wardmasters and sisters on the permanent staff of the Govern ment Civil Hospital being on special duty the branch hospitals. Later enquiries show that during the day cargo-boats became more and more difficult to obtain for the various steamship lines, and it is feared that there will be none at all available to-morrow. The real reason for the strike is now declared; the cargo-shroffs of most of the firms agree that it is the official search for epidemic cases among the water population that is resented. This new emergency will have to be dealt with firmly; as the trade of the port is already partly paralysed by the quarantine regulations of other ports, etc., it will now make little difference to it what happens for the next week or two; and so we may as well fight out, once for all, the old question whether this is a British Colony or a chaotically independent republic of Chinese coolies.
